

photos by Lindsay Hayward

FEB 15, 2022, 12pm ET, 11am CT, 10am CT, 9am PT

WHAT'S THAT SMELL?

HOW DETECTION DOGS CAN LEND A PAW IN CONSERVATION PROGRAMS

webinar presented by Laura Holder natural areas

ASSOCIATION

Title: What's that Smell? How detection dogs can lend a paw in conservation programs

Presentation Abstract: Dogs. They truly are man's best friend. By lending a helping paw and highly capable nose, they can be conservation's best friend, too. Around the world, conservation dogs are assisting boots-on-the-ground land managers by helping locate and monitor endangered and invasive species, helping with anti-poaching efforts, both on land and in water, with efficiency. This non-invasive survey method can offer huge benefits to programs where current, human-only tools are being utilized.

photo by Lindsay Hayward

Laura Holder, CPDT-KA, CNWI
Executive Director, Canine Keeper of Ernie & Betty White, Conservation Dogs Collective, Inc.

Laura's lifelong fascination with canines, especially their unique ability to work alongside humans, inspires her every day in the field. She loves training and deploying the CDCI Finder-Keeper teams to support clients in their critical conservation efforts. Driven by her boundless curiosity about how dogs think, learn and detect scent, Laura has been nose-deep in the professional fields of scent-detection, nose work and dog training since 2009.

Register